NBA Partners with AIF to Create a Legacy with First Ever NBA India Games

The National Basketball Association (NBA) will play its first-ever games in India this month between the Sacramento Kings and Indiana Pacers, and we are excited that the league has partnered with us to leave a legacy for underprivileged children in Mumbai through a holistic School Transformation Program. This US-India bridge building initiative will transform five under-resourced schools through AIF’s Digital Equalizer (DE) program by integrating technology with collaborative, project-based classroom learning and sports-based life skills.
